

Description:

The University of Idaho, Washington State University and Oregon State University cooperate in a program of veterinary medical education (WOI Veterinary Medical Education Program) established in 1974. The Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) degree is awarded by Washington State University (WSU) and Oregon State University (OSU).

Major Functions and Targeted Performance Standard(s) for Each Function:

1. Provide access to veterinary medical education for Idaho residents.
  - A. Provide enrollment opportunities for a total of 44 Idaho residents in veterinary medical education, including 11 new first-year enrollments per year.

Actual Results
1996	1997	1998	1999
44	44	44	44
Projected Results
2000	2001	2002	2003
44	44	44	44

2. Assist Idaho in meeting its needs for veterinarians.
  - A. Provide Idaho-trained, Idaho-resident graduate veterinarians to meet annual employment demands for the State. Forty-four percent of the WOI Program participants currently practice in the State of Idaho.

Actual Results
1996	1997	1998	1999
40%	33%	45%	45%
Projected Results
2000	2001	2002	2003
50%	50%	50%	50%

3. Furnish intern opportunities in food animal veterinary medicine for a portion of the students in the WOI Veterinary Medical Education Program at the Caine Veterinary Teaching Center.
  - A. Provide the opportunity for 65 one-month blocks annually in food animal production medicine and clinical experience at the Caine Veterinary Teaching Center.

Program Results and Effect:

The University of Idaho is a full partner in the program with a contractual relationship with Washington State University providing access to veterinary medical education for 44 Idaho residents. Idaho students receive their DVM degrees from WSU. The University of Idaho provides educational opportunities for students in the WOI Veterinary Medical Education program through 65 one-month blocks in food animal production and clinical experience at the Caine Veterinary Teaching Center (CVTC) in Caldwell. Faculty at the CVTC cooperate with Idaho veterinarians in food animal production, diagnosis and clinical evaluation of disease.

Program Results and Effect:

The WWAMI Medical Program provides medical education to the citizens of the State of Idaho through the University of Washington School of Medicine in cooperation with the University of Idaho. Our primary goal is to provide an excellent medical education. Our mission is to provide an emphasis in primary care medicine with a rural orientation to meet Idaho's special needs.

The WWAMI Program offers the first, third and fourth years in Idaho, through the University of Idaho, the Idaho Track and the WWAMI Rural Integrated Training Experience.

Programs such as Medical Scholars, Ambassadors, U-DOC, and Native American Center of Excellence encourage young people from rural or minority groups to enter health careers.

Program Results and Effect:

The Idaho Dental Education Program has provided Idaho's residents with the opportunity to access dental education as if Idaho had their own dental school. The program has provided this level of access without the high costs which would be incurred if Idaho funded its own dental school. The program's participants have returned to Idaho to practice dentistry in acceptable numbers and has provided those practicing dentists with opportunities to participate in ongoing educational programs. The IDEP program has positively affected both the citizens who have participated in the program as well as those served by their professional practices in dentistry and the dental specialties.
